Homework Tips

Make Homework Time Less Stressful

Sometimes homework can seem overwhelming, especially after coming home from a long day at school when all you want to do is relax! This can be especially true for students with disabilities who may need extra help or support. Here are a few tips that you can use to lesson the time you spend on homework and make that time more enjoyable.

✓ Get organized
Organize all of your materials, books, notebooks, etc.

✓ Choose and use a timer
Work with your parents and decide the amount of time that you’ll use for homework. Set a timer so you’ll know when to stop. Choose to study during the time of day or night when you are most alert.

✓ Color code
Use a color-coding system to organize materials for each subject.

✓ Record assignments
Use an assignment notebook to record all homework and long-term projects.

✓ Use checklists
It feels great to cross a task off your list! Making a checklist can help you keep track of what needs to get done.

✓ Think small
Remember to break-up long-term assignments into small, manageable, working sections in your daily homework schedule.
“Success is nothing more than a few simple disciplines, practiced every day.”

-Jim Rohn

✓ Create a homework station
Find a comfortable place in your house where you can keep all your supplies. This will help to focus on your work.

✓ Keep an extra textbook at home
Having access to your textbook at home for reference can be a big help when doing homework.

✓ Take breaks
Take scheduled breaks during long homework assignments.

✓ Double-check your work
Make sure to check your assignments for errors before turning them in to your teacher.

✓ Take advantage of resources
Ask teachers, parents, and tutors for extra help and clarification.

PEATC’s mission focuses on building positive futures for Virginia's children by working collaboratively with families, schools and communities to improve opportunities for excellence in education and success in school and community life.
